

Bushey Heath Primary School

School Equality Scheme - 2017

A vibrant school inspiring children to realise their potential

1 Vision and Values

Our equality vision and the values that underpin school life

Our equality vision and the values that underpin school life at Bushey Heath Primary School

At Bushey Heath Primary School, we aim to create an environment for learning which will encourage all children to achieve the highest standards through the provision of a broad, balanced and imaginative curriculum, high expectations, praise for a task well done and through committed, enthusiastic and effective teaching.

We will work hard to help children to develop into confident, responsible and caring adults through clearly articulated parameters and in an atmosphere of tolerance and mutual respect.

We will promote the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school and in society, and prepare pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life.

To achieve this we will take account of the following guiding principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value

We see all learners and potential learners, and their parents and carers, as of equal value:

- Whether or not they are disabled.
- Whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status.
- Whatever their gender and gender identity.
- Whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background.
- Whatever their sexual identity.

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barrier and disadvantage which people may face, in relation to:

- Disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made.
- Ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognized.
- Gender, so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognized.
- Religion, belief or faith background.
- Sexual identity.

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- Positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people

- Positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents
- Mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men, and an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- Whether or not they are disabled.
- Whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status.
- Whatever their gender and sexual identity, and with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity.

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:

- Disabled and non-disabled people.
- People of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Girls and boys, women and men.

Principle 6: We consult and involve widely

We engage with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones. We consult and involve:

- Disabled people as well as non-disabled.
- People from a range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Both women and men, and girls and boys.
- Homosexual and bisexual people as well as straight.

Principle 7: Society as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, both locally and nationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, and greater participation in public life of:

- Disabled people as well as non-disabled.
- People of a wide range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Both women and men, girls and boys.
- Homosexual and bisexual people as well as straight.

Principle 8: We base our practices on sound evidence

We maintain and publish quantitative and qualitative information showing our compliance with the public sector equality duty (PSED) set out in clause 149 of the Equality Act 2010.

Principle 9: Objectives

We formulate and publish specific and measurable objectives, based on the evidence we have collected and published (principle 8) and the engagement in which we have been involved (principle 7). The objectives which we identify take into account national and local priorities and issues, as appropriate. We keep our equality objectives under review and report annually on progress towards achieving them.

We will increase our focus on helping children and young people to learn to understand others, to value diversity whilst also promoting shared values, to promote awareness of human rights and to apply and defend them, and to develop the skills of participation and responsible action.

We are committed to following DCSF guidance in providing:

Following this regular impact assessment, the whole equality scheme will be reviewed at least every three years.

The basic principle underlying the new specific duties is that of 'transparency' which ensures that we fulfil the aims of the Equality Duty to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations between different groups. Transparency means being open about the information on which we base our decisions, on what to publish and how.

Commitment to publish information annually and provide access to our equality scheme

Bushey Heath Primary School is committed to sharing information about our equality scheme as broadly as appropriate. To this end, we will publish information annually and copies of this document and any related material will be available on the school website. As part of a continually developing process, the senior management team and Governing Body of Bushey Heath Primary School encourages its stakeholders to provide input and feedback at any time. We welcome the participation and involvement of people from broad and diverse backgrounds and of different abilities.

In accordance with Bushey Heath Primary School's commitment to the ongoing monitoring, development and enactment of this scheme, all comments and suggestions relating to the Equality and Diversity scheme will be considered during the annual review of this document, or on an ad hoc basis, whichever is appropriate.

Parents and pupils are asked for their comments through head teacher and governor newsletters.

Events at school (e.g. assemblies, harvest festival, visitors), school trips, (e.g. to local synagogues and churches), explore different cultures and promotes understanding of different religions; such trips and events are published in the school newsletters.

Any queries or comments relating to this scheme should be made via the school office.

When deciding what to do to tackle equality issues, we will consult and engage both with people affected by our decisions - parents, pupils, staff, members of the local community – and with people who have special knowledge which can inform the school's approach, such as disability equality groups and other relevant special interest organisations.

Evidence of this engagement will be included in the published material showing how the duty has been addressed.

6: Using information – Equality Impact Assessment, Data and Other Information

Evaluating the impact in terms of the outcomes

Equality Impact Assessment (EQIAs)

EQIAs help us to ensure that there is no unlawful discrimination against certain individuals or groups and that the positive duties are promoted. It is a way to ensure we meet diverse needs of our pupils/students and staff and that diversity, equality and inclusion run through all areas of school life.

At the time of review of individual school policies, an assessment will be made of the effectiveness of each policy in relation to equality and diversity, and any improvements or amendments will be made accordingly.

The effectiveness of Bushey Heath Primary School's equality and diversity scheme, and any initiatives that arise from it, will be consistently monitored by staff, the senior management team and the Governing Body, and the scheme and resulting actions will be developed accordingly.
