To inspire a thirst and love for learning through an exciting and stimulating environment supporting all children to achieve.

The Characteristics of Effective Learning

Playing and exploring - children investigate and experience things, and 'have a go.'	Active Learning - children concentrate and keep on trying if they encounter difficulties and enjoy achievements.	Creating and thinking critically - children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas, and develop strategies for doing things.

The Seven Areas of Learning

Prime Areas

Personal, Social and Emotional Development Is crucial for children to lead healthy and happy lives and is fundamental to their cognitive development. Children should be supported to manage emotions, develop a positive sense of self, set themselves simple goals, have confidence in their own abilities, to persist and wait for what they want and direct attention as necessary. Through adult modelling and guidance, they will learn how to look after their bodies, including healthy eating, and manage personal needs independently. Through supported interaction with other children they learn how to make good friendships, co-operate and resolve conflicts peaceably. These attributes will provide a secure	Communication and language The development of children's spoken language underpins all seven areas of learning and development. The number and quality of the conversations they have with adults and peers throughout the day in a language-rich environment is crucial. By commenting on what children are interested in or doing and echoing back what they say with new vocabulary added, practitioners will build children's language effectively. Reading frequently to children and engaging them actively and providing them with extensive opportunities to use and embed new words in a range of contexts, will give children the opportunity to thrive. Support and modelling from their teacher, and sensitive questioning	Physical Development Physical activity is vital in children's all-round development, enabling them to pursue happy, healthy and active lives. Gross motor skills provide the foundation for developing healthy bodies and social and emotional well-being. Fine motor control and precision helps with hand-eye co-ordination which is later linked to early literacy. Repeated and varied opportunities to explore and play with small world activities, puzzles, arts and crafts and the practice of using small tools, with feedback and support from adults, allow children to develop proficiency, control and confidence. platform from which children can achieve at school and in later life.	that invites them to elaborate, children become comfortable using a rich range of vocabulary and language structures.

Specific Areas
Literacy , It is crucial for children to develop a life-long love of reading. Reading consists of two dimensions: language comprehension and word reading	Mathematics , looks at numbers, counting, shape, space and measure.	Understanding the World , is about people and communities and helps children understand about the world they live in, including ICT.	Expressive Arts and Design , which develops different forms of expression, exploring music, dance and song, encouraging children to be creative in all respects. It also focuses on media and materials and imaginative/pretend play.

The Four Themes
The four themes of the Revised EYFS describe the features of practice on which the EYFS is based.
A Unique Child – every child is a unique child who is constantly learning and can be resilient, capable, confident and self-assured.	Positive Relationships – children learn to be strong and independent through positive relationships.	Enabling Environments – children learn and develop well in enabling environments, in which their experiences respond to their individual needs and there is a strong partnership between practitioners, parents and carers.	Learning and Development – children develop and learn in different ways. The Framework covers the education and care of all the children in early years provision, including children with special educational needs and disabilities. Practitioners teach children by ensuring challenging, playful opportunities across the prime and specific areas of learning and development.
